To Whom It May Concern:

Please accept my resume as an expressed interest in discussing the possibilities of joining your department and organization in a software engineering position.

My work history has provided me a variety of business skills which allow me to relate to all levels of management, to a variety of business positions, and work successfully with a diversity of personalities, customers, and end-users. I have been lucky in my career to have gained exposure to many different technologies and methodologies; some via personal/professional growth as well as exposure to a variety of talented colleagues that have helped shape my skill set. While the majority of my career has been contract work I am ready to set some roots with a company and grow together.

My education has provided me with a variety of information systems knowledge and practical skills; primarily in software engineering, .NET development, Modern Web Development and C# development, as well as network design, implementation, and administration, information systems security, relational database architecture, SQL Server query development, and database management. I also have proficient skills with website design, HTML, CSS, and JavaScript development, as well as website administration. I have held various positions in Information Technology that has molded me into a well-rounded engineer; from computer repair to network administration and beyond.

I consider myself to be a results-oriented, dependable, and capable worker; who is not easily affected by job stress [though some is unavoidable], and will be a strong asset to your department and organization in a variety of capacities. I am certainly receptive to any company training as well as a fast learner in any on the job training situation.

As an individual, I have many hobbies and interests that also fit well into most social environments. I have a love for sports, automobiles, adventure, science, reading, music, and much more. I am an avid gamer be it board games or video games. I am a father to three young boys and a husband to my high school sweetheart. We spend a lot of our free time with family activities and learning from each other.

I hope that I have provided you with a small sample of what makes me "me" and look forward to a scheduling a time to talk more personally at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Thomas Donnelly
